Euclid back to city street?

The California Division of Highways is considering dropping two Upland streets from the State Highway System. At a July 7 meeting of the State Department of Public Works attended by Councilman John McCarthy a recommendation was made to delete from the State Highway System, Euclid Avenue from the Pomona Freeway to 19th Street, and Foothill Blvd., from San Dimas to San Bernardino.

The City Council concerned with having to place street maintenance on the two heavily traveled streets back into the city budget authorized City Manager Elwin Alder to forward the council's recommendations to the District Engineer of the State Highway Department.

1. Before Euclid Avenue is eliminated from the State System it be put in first class condition.
2. Installation of planned traffic signals at the intersection of Euclid Ave., and 19th St.
3. If State Route 83 (Euclid Ave.,) is eliminated then all Temp. State Route 30 through the City of Upland should also be eliminated. This could be accomplished by Temp. State Route 30 following Haven Ave., southerly to Foothill.

Host Lions fish fry

Alaskan Halibut and corn on the cob will highlight the 18th Annual Fish Fry sponsored by the Upland Host Lions Club according to co-chairmen Hank Childs and Frank Green.

The Upland Host Lions bill this as their "main project" for the year. As a community favorite, the Annual Fish Fry has grown each year. More than 2,200 dinners were served last year.

The event is set for Friday, August 6, from 4 to 8 p.m. Other entries are slaw, rolls, drink and ice cream. Tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for children. Proceeds go to the youth activities within the Upland community sponsored by the Lions.

Ask any Host Lion for more information, or for tickets to the Fish Fry.

Recruiting center to open

An Armed Forces Recruiting Center to serve the West End is set to open August 2, at 331 North Euclid Avenue, Ontario.

Formerly the general offices of the Ontario Motor Speedway, the Euclid office will house representatives of the Army, Marine Corps and Navy.

A month-long open house for August is scheduled and West End residents are cordially invited to stop in and visit.

New Euclid speed limit

The City of Upland has established a speed limit on the northerly part of Euclid Avenue at 45 miles per hour, increasing urbanization of this section of Euclid Avenue necessitates establishing a new speed limit thereon. All motorists who customarily use this route are advised to note the new limit so that they will not encounter the embarrassment of visiting with the local policemen.

Hunter safety course

There will be a Hunter Safety Course held at the YMCA on August 5, 6, and 7 from 6-10 p.m. on the 5th and 7-10 p.m. on the 6th and 7th. All three nights must be attended.

Each boy under 18 who completes the course will receive a Junior membership in the National Rifle Association, and any Scout attending the course will receive 75% credit toward his merit badge in rifle and shotgun.

For further information, please call Mr. Hubler at 987-4534 or the YMCA at 986-5847.

Station on vacation

Due to vacations and hot weather, Upland Cancer Dressings Station will be closed for the month of August. Unless further notified, station will be open again in September.

Mrs. Dale Gross, Chairman, wishes to thank all the volunteers who have helped this year.

Vacation loan plan

Mrs. Phyllis Frost, children's librarian at the Upland Public Library, reminds youngsters that they may take their library books along on vacation trips.

A special vacation loan plan allows books to be borrowed for the length of the vacation trip, plus three days. Please notify librarian at the time of borrowing the book when planning to take it on a vacation trip.

The vacation loan plan is not confined to children's books, Mrs. Frost said. Adults also may take advantage of the plan, if you've been promising yourself that you are going to read that certain book "when I can find the time," this is your chance, Mrs. Frost said. "Take it along on your vacation on the vacation loan plan."

Upland salaries below par

Some Upland city employees will get a raise this month, but not enough to bring them up to an average of 12 other cities of comparable size in a 20-mile radius, according to a representative of the California League of City Employees Associations (CLOCEA).

Representing the Upland Employees Association, Mark Reid, a representative of CLOCEA told Council members at the July 19 meeting that figures used to compile the 12 city average were "a year old," and do not include salary increases of July, 1971. "This puts us further behind," he said.

The employees and the city staff conducted separate surveys of 12 cities to compare salaries of city employees with those of Upland. On the average Upland city employees were paid 5.2% less than the other cities.

"The period used in the survey was May, 1970, to May, 1971. Some of these cities have increased employees' salaries since then," Reid told the Council.

Reid was asking for a 3.8% cost of living increase in addition to the 5% which the city agreed to pay in two raises for city workers, one in July, 1971 and one in January, 1972.

"We're very happy with this arrangement," Reid said. "But these figures do not reflect increase in the cost of living index of 3.8%."

"The average increase should be 7-1/2% to reflect June and July, 1971 raises in the other cities," Reid said. "We are now 5% behind other cities on our survey plus the additional loss of purchasing power of 3.8%."

Mayor Gibson thanked Reid and the employees and said City Manager Elwin Alder would relay the Council's decision to them.

Employees were also asking for a decrease in firemen's hours from 62 hours per week to 56 hours per week. In the middle of Reid's explanation of the employee's request for fewer firemen hours, a timely fire alarm brought a hearty round of applause from the crowded council chamber.

The employees were successful in their five-month negotiations with the city in obtaining an extra paid holiday for police and firemen and a joint insurance study with management to seek some relief from a 63% increase in employee insurance premiums this past year.

Speaks for employees

Mark Reid, a representative of the California League of City Employees Associations, and Ernie Miller, right, president of the Upland Employees Association, discussed U.E.A. requests with city employees during a recess of the July 19 Council Meeting. Reid asked the Council for a 3.8% cost of living increase for city employees.

Rates rise in August for sewer and trash

Residents of Upland can expect their sewer and trash collection bills to go up in August.

As promised in a May budget message, City Manager Elwin Alder has asked the City Council to increase sewer rental charges 10 percent and refuse collection rates 12 percent.

The Council postponed action on the increases at the July 19 Council meeting in order for members of the council to hear any citizen opposition. Adoption of the increases is set for the August 2 Council meeting.

Refuse collection rates have not been increased in several years, Alder said, while costs have escalated consistently. Present rates charged do not meet the operational costs, he said.

Proposed new refuse collection rates are $2.25 for each single family dwelling without garbage disposal; with garbage disposal, $1.97.

Multiple residential units without garbage disposal, first unit, $2.25, each additional unit, $1.69; multiple residential units with garbage disposal, first unit, $1.97 with each additional unit $1.41.

"Citrus" residential unit,

$3.37.

Hotel, motel or other business which does not use bin pickup,

$16.88 per hour with minimum monthly billing of $2.81.

Commercial accounts, $11.25

first 3 cubic yard pickup, $11.81

first 4 cubic yard bin pickup,

$5.50 each additional pickup including special haul with one-time pick up.

Cost of handling and treating sewage is also escalating, Alder said. He proposes a straight 10% increase on all sewer rental charges.

'Roving with Ralph'-- Summer reading fun

Ralph is a mouse who rides a motorcycle at the Upland Public Library. Children of all ages take Ralph along on their travels through the world of books. "Roving with Ralph" is this year's summer reading game that keeps alive those vital reading skills gained during the school year.

"Children must read during the summer," says Mrs. Phyllis Frost, children's librarian, "or they will fall below their level of achievement of the previous year."

Roving with Ralph is a game that makes reading fun. Children must read ten books to complete the game. Those who read ten books receive a certificate of achievement.

Children must read one book to register. They work independently at the library and at home, and may read any books they wish. "The only stipulation we make," Mrs. Frost said, "is that they read at their own level."

Anyone who registers may attend the big party on August 28 at Upland Elementary School Auditorium. Only those who complete the ten books will receive a certificate.

Again this year the younger children who are not able to read for themselves, may participate in a Read-to-Me Club. This kind of reading club was offered to County library patrons for the first time last year, and it met with an enthusiastic response. Read-to-Me members receive a colorful chart depicting a kindly-looking owl with an open book. The chart will be stamped with the picture of an owl for every book which has been read to the child.

The Summer Reading Club and the Read-to-Me Club started June 15 and will end Aug. 15 at the Upland Public Library. Fun, as well as the satisfaction of achievement, will be waiting for boys and girls who participate in this program.

Reading can be fun

Children discover reading can be fun in the summer reading games at the Upland Public Library. Mrs. Phyllis Frost, children's librarian, explains the Roving With Ralph game to Dennis Robertson, 8, and Kathy Pagano, 10.

Ninth flying Cable

Sixteen year-old, Mike Stewart, a junior at Pomona High, is congratulated by his grandfather, Dewey Cable, on being the ninth member of the Cable family to become a pilot. Mike soloed on his 16th birthday, June 10, at Cable Airport. He did not get a license to drive a car until July 20.

Another Cable solos

When Dewey Cable built Cable Airport in 1945, his friends and family convinced him it was time to make a legitimate pilot of himself by obtaining a pilot's license even though he had already flown many hundreds of hours without one.

His son Walter had gotten a pilot's license the previous year at Brackett Field in San Dimas, and the Federal Aviation Agency was "cracking down" on flying without a license so Dewey agreed it was time he should have one.

He made a little ritual of his solo flight at the new airport bearing his name and received his solo certificate beneath a small tree that is still standing near the present control tower. At that time there were no permanent buildings yet erected.

Since then seven other members of the Cable family have soloed at Cable Airport, including Dewey's youngest son Roger who made a flamboyant solo in 1955 in no less than seven different airplanes.

The most recent member of the family to follow the tradition was Dewey's grandson, Mike Stewart, who soloed at Cable Airport on his sixteenth birthday, June 10. This easily makes Mike the youngest of the flying family but not for long. His cousins Diane and Robert Cable are taking lessons now.

Mike Stewart is a junior at Pomona High School. His mother Mildred Cable Stewart was flying long before he was born. She got her pilot's license in 1949.

Like all the Cable's Mike Stewart, is in love with the airplane. He spends his summers working at the Airport and loves to work on old engines. He plans to study electronics in college. Although he cannot take the test for a private pilot's license until he is seventeen, the solo certificate entitles him to fly with an instructor or solo anytime he wants to. He has been so busy flying, he did not remember to take the test to get his automobile license until July 20. Now he can drive a car too.

Laguna Festival

For 36 years the people of Laguna Beach have volunteered their time and effort to produce a unique program of living art. The festival started in 1933 to help the artists and fellow Lagunians through the depression. John Hinchman, local artist, was attributed with starting the idea. Every year an improvement is made, and this year the lighting system is new and very effective.

The festival will run until Aug. 29 and along with the Pageant is an art show on the festival grounds. The Pageant of the Masters program is very colorful and varied. The music and narration is excellent.

Two of the presentations are traditional with the Pageant, "The Venice Bell" by Antonio Rizzo which opens the presentation and "The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci which closes the pageant.

My favorites in the show were Wedgewood Plaque "Cassandra Grasping the Palladium," "The Berry Pickers," by Winslow Homer; "Concert on the River," by Hyewon Sin Yun-bok.

"Pierced Ivory Plaque" was superb in its lighting coming from a back-lighting red to pure white. "Gilt Bronze Inkwell" by Raul Larche was beautiful and "Don Quixote and Sancho Panza" by Honore Daumier was amusing. "The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci, is a fitting climax to the program.

A special doff of the hat should go to all who produce the Pageant and to Sally Reeve and her great staff who coordinate the publicity.

Free kittens

Cats have an affinity for adopting me. So far I have rescued three cats from under the wheel of my car. They never just come to the door and say "Here I am." No, they get under the wheel of my car and leave me no alternative but to adopt them. The first two cats who did this to me were given to my editors as "gifts." The last cat was with kittens and in a matter of two weeks and before I could find her a home, she had five kittens under my bed.

I have a cat of my own who is quite perturbed by this "kitten business" and to make a long "catty" story short, four of the kittens and mama, who is but a youngster herself, need homes, pronto.

One kitten has a home, so please be a sport and adopt one of the other four "soon to be homeless waifs." I guarantee you they are beautiful and well-behaved. Call me at 626-2465 and I'll see that you have one for your very own and thanks in advance for helping me out of a "kittenish" situation.

Navy's program 'Operation Cache'

180 EASY DAYS OF PLANNING. This Navy program is designed to cut out a lot of hustle and bustle that usually comes during the few weeks before reporting for duty in the military service. Somehow, there has never been enough time to take care of all those little things that suddenly become very important. So the Navy developed "Operation Cache" to give an enlistee up to 180 days in which to prepare for the date he reports for active duty. Now is, indeed, the time for recent graduates to benefit from this program.

You will have up to six months head start over regular Navy recruits because, even though you don't wear a uniform for 180 days, you are already in the Navy and building seniority for pay and time toward fulfilling your military obligation.

If you meet the qualifications you may be accepted for one of the Navy's Graduate Training Programs. The Navy is the place to specialize, so see your Navy Recruiter TODAY.

Telephone Co. employe retires after 47 years

UPLAND-- "Life was simpler then" is how a Pacific Telephone account, who will retire Sept. 1 after 47 years and one month with the company, described his duties then as compared to 1971.

Kenneth S. FaGaines of Upland, with the general accounting methods group in El Segundo, recalled that he first served with the company in 1924 in the treasurer's office in Los Angeles for $80 a month in such capacities as depositing checks and filling inkwells.

The New Jersey native and Manual Arts High School (Los Angeles) graduate said that three men signed all the checks individually after they had been typed--also individually.

"Figuring the payroll was easy," FaGaines said. "You just added it up." He said the only deduction in those days was for persons who purchased AT&T stock.

Kenneth S. FaGaines

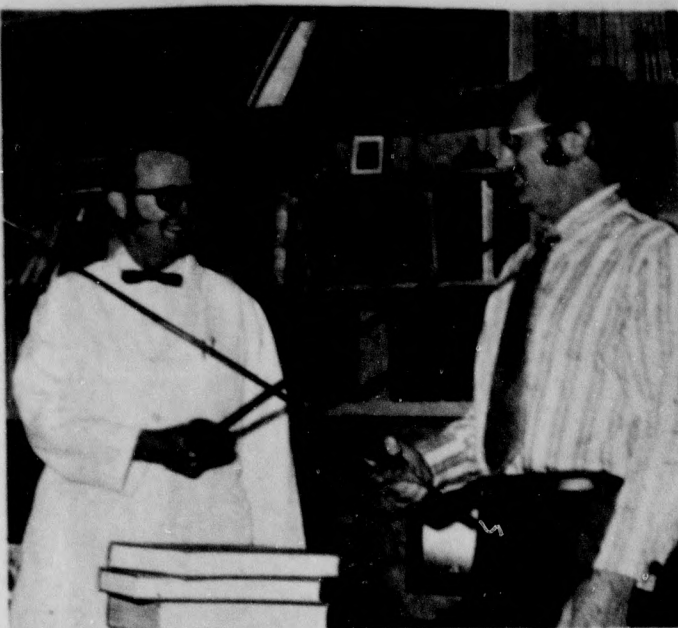

FaGaines has somewhat of a "telephone family." Three daughters (he has seven children; six married and one at home) worked for Pacific Telephone, two in accounting and one in the commercial department. He met his wife, Rosanne, at Western Electric (a Bell System company) in 1944 and married her in 1946.

After a one-month vacation beginning Aug. 1, FaGaines will begin what he calls "retirement." He plans to work as a tax consultant for a Glendora tax service firm, and in real estate (he earned a state real estate certificate in night school at Chaffey College in 1966). He also plans to "ride herd on seven children and five grandchildren."

FaGaines said he has no hobbies and is "not a joiner" but that he "likes dealing with people." He said that such dealings at income tax time are sometimes "like a three-ring circus," but that he "loves it."

He has no specific travel plans, but said that trips to Florida and Michigan periodically to visit relatives should prove enjoyable.

Book lovers take note

Dr. Edward F. Pottorff and Dr. Hurley Robinson, two Civil War buffs, cross swords in a mock duel over Civil War books that were donated to the Friends of the Upland Library for their annual book sale. Neither doctor won the books. They, along with thousands of books on all subjects, will go on sale on a first come first serve basis at the Upland Library, July 30, 31 and August 1.

Clubs exchange gifts

W. R. "Ross" Crampton, treasurer Upland Rotary Club, Dr. George Graue, Rotary president, and Joseph E. Parker, executive director of the West End Boys Club, arrive at the Upland Women's Club for an exchange of gifts. Parker accepted a $500 check from the Rotarians and presented them with a plaque of appreciation for their contribution which will go toward leadership costs of the West End Boys Club.

Pink slip for Caborca

Mayor George M. Gibson presents a giant "pink slip" transferring ownership of the city's 22-year-old fire engine to Upland's Mexican sister city, Caborca, to Mrs. Zella H. Stone, corresponding secretary of the Town Affiliation Association. Mrs. Stone accepted the title to the fire engine in behalf of her son, E. Harvey Stone, vice president, who will get the fire engine to Caborca, she said, "If he has to drive it down himself."

ternational today at the organization's Fifty-sixth Annual Convention in San Francisco, California, according to Eugene A. Demchuk, President of the Kiwanis Club of Upland.

'Sisters' become closer with plaque exchange

UPLAND - - On June 26th, William E. Walk presented a plaque bearing Upland's official seal to Mayor C.R. Noyce at a civic reception given in his honor in Mildura, as the representative of their "Sister City", Upland.

Walk is now the immediate past president of Rotary International, and had journeyed to Australia for the primary purpose of conducting Rotary's International Convention. As a gesture of goodwill, in keeping with his Rotary theme of "Bridging the Gaps" between people and nations, he traveled an additional 800 miles each way to carry out the sisterly mission between the two cities founded by the Chaffey brothers.

In addition to the civic reception held in Walk's honor, he and Mrs. Walk were entertained at a historic "celebration luncheon" held in the dining room of Rio Vista, the former home of the William B. Chaffey family, which is now a museum. This was the first such dinner held at Rio Vista since it has become a museum, but the councilmen felt that its use for this occasion would emphasize the link between the two cities and the joint connection with the Chaffeys. By coincidence, Mrs. Elizabeth Walker, daughter of one of the Chaffeys, was on holiday from Wodonga, and for her, it was a re-occurrence of a daily act of some 40 years ago.

Walk also participated in the opening of Fotherby Park in nearby Wentworth, where he planted two trees. Fotherby Park is named after the late Frank Fotherby, a Rotary stalwart, and owes much of its development to the Rotary clubs of Wentworth, Merbion and Mildura.

The Town Affiliation Association of Upland is making plans for a civic reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Walk this Fall, when Walk will tell of the

It was Tom Sawyer Day...

One, two, three--pull!

Pros at picket fence painting

Members of the Upland Boys' Club recently celebrated Tom Sawyer Day at the branch. Festivities included competition which pitted all the Tom Sawyers and Huck Finns against each other with a picket fence painting contest, watermelon eating contest and a tug-of-war. The event was one of the many scheduled special activities during the club's summer program. Prospective members should contact Brian Cathcart, branch director, 982-7119.

Electricity is vital to your way of life.
So is a healthy environment.
We're working to bring you both.

Why Edison made six lakes.

To generate electricity, Edison has harnessed the spring thaws in a part of the High Sierra of Central California. Over the years it meant building 15 major dams and six lakes in an area now known as "Big Creek."

Today Big Creek is one of America's largest hydroelectric power developments. It provides low-cost electricity, flood control and water conservation.

It's also a vast recreation area open to the public.

Every year the man-made lakes attract boaters, water-skiers, fishermen, swimmers and even skin-divers. At Camp Edison-Shaver Lake, campgrounds with electric outlets offer campers many of the comforts of home.

To protect the natural resources of the area, Edison launched an extensive conservation program. This includes scientific management of thousands of acres of timber on Edison-owned land.

Special protective measures are taken against damage by fire, insects and plant diseases. Selective cutting and thinning prevent some trees from becoming overgrown giants and others from being crushed and stunted. Trees for reforestation are raised at Edison's nursery where seedlings of native trees are under constant production. These practices provide an annual yield of healthy timber; eliminate wasteful and indiscriminate cutting; help prevent soil erosion and protect the watershed.

Edison's forestry program has earned an award from the Western Pine Association designating the Company's timberlands as a Certified Western Pine Tree Farm.

In the years ahead, Edison will continue to control the flow of water in surrounding streams to help assure good trout fishing. We also plan, with the cooperation of the U.S. Forest Service, to add more hiking trails and improved roads, together with a boat-launching station, a visitor information center and hundreds of new overnight camps and day-use facilities.

Preserving the natural resources at Big Creek is one of the many ways we are working to protect the environment we share.

Many heart defects at birth are curable

Do you know there are about 35 known kinds of congenital (birth) defects of the heart? Thanks to research, modern skill and medicine, nearly 20 of them can now be cured or improved by surgery.

These malfunctions are structural defects in the formation of the heart occurring during the first three months of the mother's pregnancy.

Although less than one percent of all new babies have an inborn heart defect, the total number in this country each year is estimated to be 30,000 to 40,000. Some may be able to live healthy and long lives without any need for repairing their hearts. A defect could be so slight as to escape notice by the person or his doctor throughout a lifetime. But sometimes it can be so severe that an infant lives only a few hours.

The doctor who delivers a baby sometimes recognizes immediately that the newborn may have a heart defect. One signal is a blue tinge to the baby's skin -- a condition called "cyanosis." Other defects also can cause blueness and, in mild cases, cyanosis may only show up in the lips and fingertips when the child exerts himself. These "blue babies" have a condition that prevents enough blood from getting to their lungs to pick up oxygen.

An inborn heart defect may prevent a child from growing and gaining weight normally. He may tire easily and sometimes feel weak. There may be spells of breathing difficulty, with the child having to stop often to catch his breath. The youngster may squat frequently as this posture helps him breathe more easily.

Of course these symptoms might be due to other causes but in any event they always should be brought to the doctor's attention. The earlier a defect is diagnosed, the better are the child's chances.

Prior to 1941, German measles was thought to be a mild disease of no consequence. Epidemics swept through communities and schools every four or five years. But in 1941, an ophthalmologist in Sydney, Australia, saw a series of newborn infants with cataracts and blindness. Investigating the circumstances surrounding the births of these babies, he found that all of their mothers had German measles during pregnancy. Some of these infants also had heart abnormalities. Within a few years other Australian physicians confirmed these observations. Considerable research work followed and finally in 1962, the virus causing German measles was isolated and work was begun on the development of a vaccine. Several have been produced and tested, and a vaccine is now approved for general use.

It is anticipated that when school children are immunized, epidemics of German measles will cease and the possibility of acquiring this disease during pregnancy will be greatly reduced. It now can be said that blindness, deafness, mental retardation or heart abnormalities caused by German measles are becoming a thing of the past in this country.

For more detailed information on congenital heart defects, write of call the Los Angeles County Heart Association for their free booklet, "IF YOUR CHILD HAS A CONGENITAL HEART DEFECT." The booklet explains the normal heart and how it works; how the cardiologist diagnoses heart defects; when surgery is recommended and a special section of preparing the child emotionally and physically when he must be hospitalized. Helpful advice is also given to parents to aid them in overcoming any fears they may have.

Moms and daughters, if friends think you look very much alike, why not enter the fourth annual Los Angeles County Fair Mother Daughter Look Alike Contest!

This year's event will be held on Thursday, September 23, in the Amphitheatre. Contestants must be present behind the Amphitheatre stage no later than 4:30 p.m. on the day of the contest.

Entry blanks for the contest may be obtained by writing the Special Events Department, Los Angeles County Fair, Box 2250, Pomona, 91766.

Annual poets' contest slated

Kellogg granddaughter attends Cal Poly

When Annie Elizabeth (Betsy) Curry arrived at freshman orientation at California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona last fall, she had never before been on the campus. It was not only her first look at the college, but, when she drove by the Manor House, now the residence of the college's president, it was her first look at the house where her mother lived as a young girl when the place was an Arabian horse ranch.

For Betsy Curry is the great granddaughter of William K. Kellogg, the founder of the cereal industry who gave his 835-acre ranch to the state of California for Cal Poly's use in 1949.

Betsy was born in Arcadia, less than 25 miles from the site of her mother's old home, yet she had never been there before attending college. And, since the land passed out of the family, her mother had not returned to the area.

Betsy was, however, steeped in the heritage of corn flakes and horses. She remembers that the Kellogg cereal boxes were ever present on the family breakfast table, and she recalls that she and her sister got a laugh from making up parodies of the Post's cereal commercials.

Mementos of her mother's youth, photographs of her great grandfather and the horses were on the walls of her home and in the scrapbooks, so that she had a visual concept of what Cal Poly might be like when she did come.

And then there is the horse heritage. Betsy's mother, Eleanor Williamson Curry, daughter of Kellogg's only daughter, Elizabeth Ann Kellogg Williamson (Betsy is named for her grandmother) was an accomplished horsewoman in her younger years.

Betsy, no doubt inherited her passion for horses from her mother, although she is a bit of a departure from tradition in that she prefers thoroughbreds to Arabians.

That she chose to apply for admission to Cal Poly is partly due to the fact that her own horse, The President, which she boards in Pasadena, would have to be given up if she had gone away from home.

"And I did think of the tradition of being a Kellogg descendent," Betsy says.

Working in a vacuum

Cal Poly, Pomona student Bill Gross (left) installs a film thickness monitor in the department's new vacuum deposition chamber. Gross built the monitor as his senior project, under the supervision of his advisor, Dr. John P. Palmer. The acquisition of the equipment opens up a whole new area for instruction and research in the college's department of electronics and engineering.

Vacuum lab new at Cal Poly

"Working in a vacuum" is a phrase generally interpreted to mean functioning in an unproductive environment. Not so in the vacuum laboratory at California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona. In fact, quite the opposite.

The facility is part of the electrical and electronics engineering department, where a new vacuum deposition chamber for microelectronic processing has recently been installed. The equipment, much to the delight of the engineering faculty, makes it possible for a whole new area of instruction and research to be done at the college.

Instrumental in opening up this new phase of electrical engineering study is Dr. John P. Palmer, assistant professor of electrical engineering and a specialist in the field of thin film electronics. When Palmer came to Cal Poly less than a year ago after receiving his doctorate in physics at the University of California at Riverside, there was little or no work being done in microelectronics. Palmer was attracted to the campus by the promise of the new equipment and his enthusiasm for the educational concept widely embraced by Cal Poly's engineering program, that special equipment and programs should be available for undergraduate students. There are very few schools of engineering in the country which extend these kinds of opportunities to undergraduates," says Palmer.

"The use of this sensitive equipment is almost always reserved for the graduate students or faculty. At Cal Poly, Pomona it is a challenge to introduce this level work to younger students."

Currently six Cal Poly students are using the vacuum deposition chamber for senior projects, which include the making of thin film transistors, thin film microhyphenate circuits, electronic filters, and for testing ferroelectric effects and monitoring film thickness.

"Actually our new deposition chamber and the work that is building up around the use of it is giving our engineering program an advantage that no other colleges in this area can match," Palmer declares.

Cal Poly, Pomona has one of the largest undergraduate enrollments in engineering in the state. Each of the School of Engineering's six departments -- aerospace, chemical, civil, electrical and electronics, industrial, and mechanical -- has enrollment openings for summer and fall quarters.

Home accidents kill many

Home accidents last year took nearly 30,000 lives and injured more than 4 million others, according to the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children & Adults of San Bernardino County.

In an effort to prevent crippling as well as to treat it, the Society is offering a free Home Safety Checklist that can assist householders in taking step-by-step stock of dangers responsible for causing falls, fires, poisonings, suffocations, electrocutions, and other major accidents in places where they live.

"Two-thirds of those killed in home accidents are children, with 60,000 more crippled," the Society's president, Mrs. Bonnie Oehl, said. "Seeing the results of these preventable catastrophes prompts us to re-emphasize the 'ounce of prevention.' While science is finding ways to repair the damage of crippling accidents, prevention is obviously still the best 'cure.'"

The checklist on home safety is one of a continuing series that make up the safety prevention program of the Easter Seal organization in San Bernardino County. Other checklists are available for the aging and the handicapped, the school-age child, and the teen-ager.

Vets urged to read mailorder insurance

The Veterans Administration of Southern California has advised veterans in this area to read carefully "before" they purchase any insurance.

The regional office has received complaints that a private insurance company is distributing printed information in a campaign to sell its policies under the guise that they are GI insurance policies. The material is mailed in a brown envelope, similar to the type used by the federal government.

VA officials in Washington have contacted the insurance commissioner of the state where the company is licensed and also given copies of material to the Federal Trade Commission for investigation and any action that the Commission deems necessary.

For further information, call Pat Hogan at 478-3711, Ext. 3691.

Simian diet slims obese Orangutan

If local orangutans ever decide to form a weight-watcher's club, the Los Angeles Zoo has a candidate to nominate for president -- an experienced orang who just lost 15 pounds on a successful simian diet.

Hedda, a 48-year-old female orangutan at the Zoo, is a charming ape teenager with long cinnamon-colored hair, expressive brown eyes, short legs, long arms and an uncontrollable appetite.

As one of the bigger orangs in the family compound, Hedda has always had first choice of the food at mealtimes. First at the table and last to leave, hefty Hedda soon weighed 185 pounds! Not pleasingly plump, but frankly fat.

Now, a full-grown male orangutan, with an arm-span of 7 1/2 feet, may safely weigh 250 pounds. But a lady orang, in a state of optimum health and sex appeal, is supposed to be lighter.

Orangs as well as humans regard mealtimes as social occasions. In their native jungles of Sumatra and Borneo, social groups of orangutans spend most of their days hanging around in trees, eating. They enjoy the same gourmet schedule in the Zoo, so the only way Zoo veterinarians can be certain of limiting Hedda's caloric intake is to keep her in isolation in the Health Center, far from her nibbling companions.

Hedda's daily diet, for the benefit of those human dieters who may want to compare notes, is: 4 pounds monkey-chow biscuits, 2 oranges, 1/2 head lettuce or 1/2 bunch celery, 2 chewable multi-vitamin capsules, and all the water she wants to drink.

Orangutans are an endangered species, threatened with extinction in the wild and protected by international laws.

Rabies warning

Dr. Merle E. Cosand, Director of Public Health for San Bernardino County, has this word of warning for parents. "Rabies is and has been a potential hazard for many years in wildlife in San Bernardino County. Consequently, we would like to warn parents against handling or permitting their children to handle any wild animals. With the onset of the hot summer months, families are enjoying trips to the cool mountainous areas where wild life is abundant. Also, children living close to wild areas will be out hiking through them. We would like to emphasize to all parents to teach their children to look and learn but never handle wildlife. "The law requires immunization of dogs against rabies," said Dr. Cosand, "if all dog owners will immunize their dogs and parents will instruct their children to never handle wildlife, we can feel relatively safe."

RH football slates final registration

ROWLAND HEIGHTS - Final registration for Rowland Heights Jr. All American Football Association will be held on Saturday, July 31 at Rowland High School, 2000 South Otterbein, Rowland Heights, 10 a.m. til 2 p.m.

This year the Rowland Heights Association will field six teams, 2 Jr. Pee Wee, 2 Pee Wee, 1 Jr. Midget and 1 Midget.

For 1971 there have been changes in weight limits and some boys who might not have played under last year's rules may be eligible this year. The age limits are, again, nine through thirteen as of August 1.

All players from the Rowland and Walnut School Districts are eligible unless they played for a different Association last year, in which case eligibility must be individually determined.

Boys wishing to join must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian and should bring their birth certificate and report card from grade just completed.

These 15 girls have been selected by the managers and coaches of the Diamond Bar/Walnut Girls Softball League as being the best players in the league for the 1971 season. The girls will represent their league in tournament play with other cities in the Southern California area. Tonight at 6 p.m. they will play Corona at DB/W at 6 p.m. They have been invited to the Montclair Invitational which begins Saturday, July 31 at 4 p.m. Adults selected to help the team are Manager Betty Walsh, coaches Ed Walsh and Jim Gardner, chaperone Grace Glus and scorekeeper Grady Butler.

SD little league eliminated in playoff

By Jim Lough

SAN DIMAS - In what proved to be the most dramatic Little League tournament playoff game in the history of San Dimas, eliminated an outstanding San Dimas team from further competition, when they were beaten in 11 innings by Ted Green of Pomona, last Friday.

San Dimas pitcher Billy Bumstead and Ted Green's Joey Chapa locked up in a scoreless duel that saw both pitchers being forced to retire from the mound after nine innings due to Little League pitching rules.

San Dimas picked up only two hits in the contest. Both were doubles. The first came with one out in the ninth by hustling catcher Sean O'Brien and the other was a line shot in the top of the 10th by Billy Bumstead. Bumstead, although allowing more hits (3) than Chapa, was absolutely superb, in fanning an amazing 24 batters in 9 innings. His control was razor sharp, as he issued only one walk, that to Jeff Larkin of Ted Green in the 10th with 2 away.

Larkin led off the 11th with a single to left, D.A. Kelley followed with a bunt to the right side of the infield and was safe at first, Larkin taking 2nd.

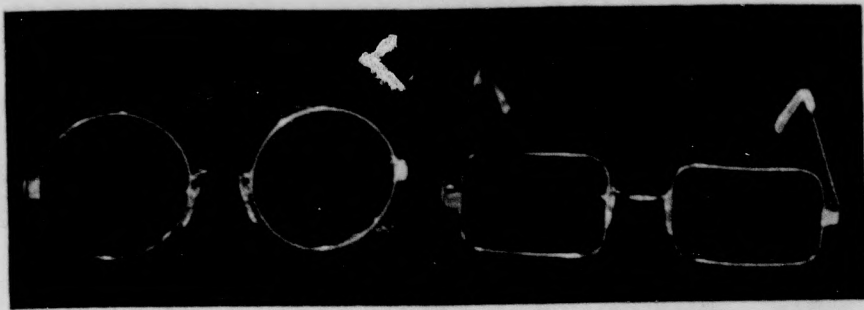

In the San Dimas half of the 11th pinch hitter Sonny LaFarge and catcher Sean O'Brien both worked Phillips to full counts before being retired. O'Brien nearly pulled the ball out of the park down the right field line, but never quite got over as Marc Mitchell hauled it in for out number 2. Artie Amplayo walked on a 3-1 pitch. Greg Sayegh then hit a routine grounder to the 3rd baseman, who went to 2nd to get the force, threw the ball to the fence, and Amplayo was called out at home on a photo finish, to end the game.

The San Dimas fans were stunned by the loss after the tense 11innings, but were unanimous in their praise of one of the finest tournament teams ever fielded here. They made not a single error in the long contest. Their Manager Bob Harriman and his coach John Brahs did an outstanding job of getting their players prepared for the game, and were naturally disappointed in losing, but felt that there was very little more that could have been done to change things. The players and coaches exemplified the spirit of sportsmanship and conduct typical of San Dimas teams.

Both coaches were high in their praise of a typically tough Ted Green team and especially their marvelous pitcher Joey Chapa, who also deserved to win.

Little league playoffs slated

MONTCLAIR - The West End Little League's tournament team advanced to District 23 playoffs to be played this Friday, July 29 at 7 p.m. at Ontario High School. The team will play the Ontario National Little League team.

The West End shut-out Montclair Central's chances for the championship recently when the WE beat Central 4-3.

DB over San Dimas in Sr. league playoff

By Jim Lough

SAN DIMAS - The San Dimas Senior League All-Star Baseball team was eliminated in the first round of Area playoffs last week. They lost to Diamond Bar 6-0.

Diamond Bar's Tracy Cowger threw a no-hitter at San Dimas in turning in an outstanding pitching performance.

San Dimas team managed to get some baserunners with a few walks and an error or two, but Cowger, mixing an excellent fast ball in with off speed curves was able to keep things under control in the clutch. He also fielded his position magnificently on several occasions.

It was a bitter loss for San Dimas, who was defending District 20 champion, but every pitcher was impressed by Cowgers ability to keep them off balance, and mix up his pitches well.

So Manager Al Thomas and his coach Dick Hubbard will have to wait until next year to give it another go.

Diamond Bar managed to win this first round, by defeating Glendora Nat'l 8-5 on Wednesday last. Glendora had made the playoffs by defeating a tough La Verne team the evening before. Although La Verne outthit their opponents, they failed to get the hits when needed most.

From living room to air field A success story!

WALNUT - The Eckel-Thorp is a reality. After four years, two days, and about six hours, the Gene Eckel family has a new aircraft.

Elizabeth Eckel, business education instructor at Mt. San Antonio College, says it's great to have the aircraft at Pomona Valley Aviation Brackett Field, La Verne, instead of in the living room. That's right. For two years the aircraft was actually in the Eckel's living room where Gene, his twin brother Baldwin, and their other brother Bill, built it, with assistance from all other family members.

Four years ago, Gene and the whole family decided to build the aircraft. Gene bought the plans for the Eckel-Thorp, a T-18, 2-place, side-by-side, designed by John Thorp, who has the basic design of the Piper Cherokee to his list of credits, also.

With technical help from Thorp, now at Van Nuys, the Brothers Eckel and family spent much of the next ten or twelve months which followed getting equipment, tools, and parts ready for the actual construction. When they had the skins cut out, the parts for the fuselage, and the landing gear, they started to work in earnest. The aircraft started to take form right there in Mrs. Eckel's living room.

A wall was eliminated to facilitate the length of the aircraft, 18' from nose to tail. The next two years saw the Eckel's giving parties, cleaning house, watching television, all around the ever-present Eckel-Thorp.

Last Fall the Eckel-Thorp was taken out of the house, through the large sliding glass doors of the living and dining rooms, gently placed on a long trailer, and carefully driven to Brackett Field. In December, it was on display during the Brackett Air Show, and won many plaudits from the admiring crowds. The little bird's silver skin was shined to glow, and the proud family hovered over it, giving all the details of construction anyone wanted to hear.

Then the engine was put in place, the avionics installed, and all manner of final touches were finished. Then last Sunday the Eckel-Thorp was brought out for public acclaim.

Gary Eckel, 19 year old son of Gene and Elizabeth, and an air transportation management major at MSAC, his sister Susan, a teacher's aide at the Salem Christian School for the Handicapped, Ontario, and all the brothers served coffee and cookies and information to the many visitors who came to see the final product.

Gene, a captain for Golden West Airline, was a flight instructor with Air Charter (now Pomona Valley Aviation), teaching his son, his wife, and his brothers how to fly. Brother Baldwin is vice principal at El Roble Junior High School, Claremont and Bill is a Presbyterian minister in Pasadena.

One of the dominant questions during the "Show Offs" open house debut was, "... when are you going to fly?" Eckel explained that the Eckel-Thorp has had its radio checks, and has had a number of taxi checks, and ground runs, but flying must wait until after the Federal Aviation Administration's inspector gives it a final okay sometime this week.

After that the aircraft will be flown solo for 50 hours. Then a check to make doubly sure everything is safe and proper, and off they'll go - two at a time.

The aircraft is powered by a 180hp Lycoming engine, has a constant speed propeller, 30 usable gallons fuel capacity, with a 180 mph cruise speed. Its range is in the neighborhood of 450 miles, and its instrument panel is complete, with total IFR capabilities.

Mrs. Eckel says it's rather nice to have her whole living room back again, "... but somehow I do miss seeing the Eckel-Thorp everyday."

Gary, will transfer next Fall to Metropolitan State College, Denver, to continue his studies, but says he will keep close check on the progress of these first 50 hours, with the thought of getting to fly the Eckel-Thorp himself sometime next Spring.

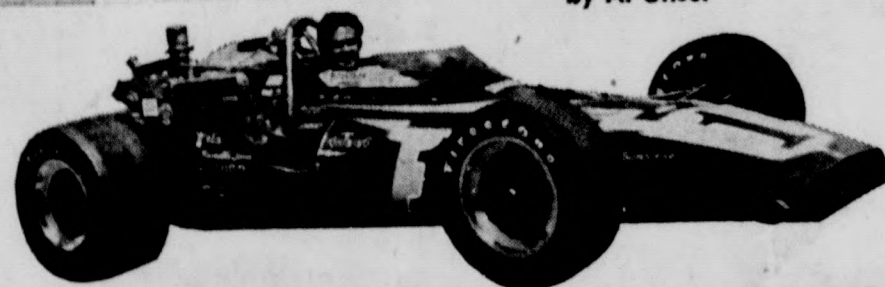

Family 'show-off' on display

Horse disease not reported in SB County

"There has not been any reported cases of equine encephalitis in either people or horses in San Bernardino County", according to Dr. Robert A. Jackson, county Public Health Veterinarian. The present outbreak of Venezuelan equine encephalitis is, as of this time, entirely confined to Texas which is now under quarantine. As a result, horses can neither go out nor get into Texas.

The state of California is taking steps to stop all shipment of horses from all infected territories (U.S. and Mexico). However, the County Health Department, the Bureau of Animal Health of the State Department of Agriculture and all large animal veterinary practitioners in the county are all on the alert for the presence of possible cases of the disease.

Women's golf tourney slated

The Claremont Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor a women's golf tourney on Wednesday afternoon, August 4. The tournament will be held at Claremont Golf Course and the registration fee, which includes green fee, is $2.50.

The tournament is open to all women 16 years of age and over. Registration is being taken at the Claremont Golf Course. A handicap system will be used so that even the beginners stand a chance of winning one of the many trophies.

Medical Assistants

The San Antonio Chapter of The American Association of Medical Assistants, Inc., State of California, will hold the August Board Meeting at the home of Helen DeBartolomeo, 4535 Canoga, Apt. E, Montclair on August 2.

The San Antonio Medical Assistants General membership meeting will be held at the home of Rosemary Galbraith, 1551 Kenmore Court, Ontario, with Beverly Johnson as co-hostess. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, August 10.

The dinner will be an old fashioned pot-luck, with members bringing any type dish they care to prepare, plus a cost of $1.50. Any member or guest planning to attend, who does not wish to bring food will be charged $3.50. The dinner will start at 7:30 p.m.

Unemployment wage reports are now due

Monday, August 2, is the deadline for filing California Unemployment Insurance wage reports and contribution returns for the second quarter of 1971. H.H. Loran, Tax Administrator for the State Department of Human Resources Development in San Bernardino, today reminded employers.

Employers who fail to file wage reports and pay second quarter taxes on or before August 2, will reduce their chances of receiving a lower rate next year. Loran pointed out that it is not possible to use payments made after August 2 in computing employer tax rates. In addition, penalty and interest will be charged if the report is filed after the deadline. Employers who need help in preparing their returns and wage reports may contact the Employment Tax Office at 371 W. Third Street, San Bernardino, or telephone 889-8341.

Let's play a new game that has a very simple set of rules. First we'll need two to four players, seated around a Monopoly-like board. Each player starts the game with 18 carbon atoms of one color and two adenosine triphosphate molecules, represented by plastic tokens or poker chips.

Then, nine, oxygen and enzyme cards are dealt out to each player. There are three ways to move: by carbon entry, enzymatic reaction and oxidative phosphorylation.

If you understand all of this so far, you are ready to begin to play. But if by chance you still have trouble comprehending, don't feel too badly, since the game is not exactly Monopoly.

METABOLISM, as the game is called, came out of the imagination of Dr. Richard Goodman, associate professor of biology at California State College, San Bernardino.

It is a game of biology created by Dr. Goodman to help increase his students' understanding of intermediary metabolism. This is a series of chemical reactions which break down food material for the release of energy.

Each player is a living cell faced with the problems of acquiring energy (ATP) from carbon compounds. The tokens are moved on the board as the players carry out various enzymatic reactions.

The players must accumulate a combination of cards that will cause a reaction generating energy. He then receives the number of ATP's that were created by the reaction. A player wins when he accumulates 50 ATP's.

The object of the game is to gain the most amount of energy in the form of ATP which is a medium of exchange in biological systems, just as money is the medium of exchange in Monopoly. The oxygen and enzyme cards correspond to certain chemical reactions.

All metabolic reactions are regulated by specific enzymes. An enzyme is a biological catalyst. This is the point that METABOLISM was designed to illustrate to students, since certain enzyme cards are needed to carry out specific reactions.

The idea for METABOLISM came to Dr. Goodman in his first year at CSCSB, 1967-68, while writing material for one of his classes. He decided it would be fun to devise a game pertaining to biology. He did not get around to the actual development of the game, however, until two years later.

Dr. Goodman would play the game at home with his family, including his daughter who was 11-years-old at the time. It took over a year to work out all of the kinks and gradually improve the game.

Copies of METABOLISM have been sent to a number of game manufacturers around the country by Dr. Goodman. So far, he has received one favorable response. He does not foresee his game becoming available on the commercial market since it is too complicated for people who do not have some background in biology. Rather it is designed to help biology students learn biochemical principles enjoyably.

The game was played in one of Dr. Goodman's classes last quarter and was met favorably by the students.

So if you happen to be walking by one of the biology labs and see a group of students seated around a funny looking board playing cards with a pile of poker chips don't be alarmed. It's only Dr. Goodman's class learning about intermediary metabolism and adenosine triphosphate molecules.
